Meat doesn't burn to a cinder and go up in flame and smoke when you cook the Covered Weber Way

14 Exclusive features that assure you a lifetime of fun and cooking pleasure

THE ONLY LINE
THAT'S WEATHER-PROTECTED
INSIDE AND OUT.

Charcoal grill gives even heat distribution, ventilates fire, eliminates need for gravel fire bed.

Bottom and cover dampers control draft, snuff out fire after use—let you re-use charcoal.

Aluminum foil pan catches delicious juices for making gravy—not required if gravy isn't desired.

No cranks, gears or other mechanical parts to wear.

Rust-proof porcelain finish—inside and out.

Hook on inside of cover for hanging on kettle.

Openings under grill handles for adding charcoal without removing grill.

Cover reflects heat, prevents flare-ups.

Circular chrome plated steel barbecue grill has handles for easy removal.

Kettle bowl reflects heat.

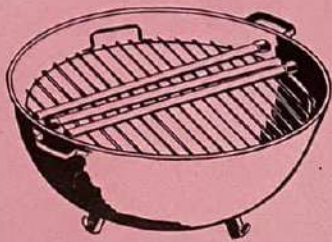

Large roasts accommodated. Reflected heat seals in savory juices.

Chrome plated legs; thumb screws for easy removal.

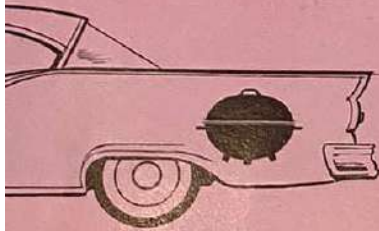

Rubber-tired wheels for convenient moving, even while kettle is in use.

Steel utility shelf.

TOPS IN TASTE, WEBER COVERED BAR-B-Q KETTLE
COOKS WITHOUT FLAME TO SEAL IN ALL THE FLAVOR ... BROILS, BAKES, ROASTS, FRIES AND BARBECUES.

Complete portability . . . take it anywhere in the trunk of your car. Legs easily detach.

Ideal companion on your camping party.

Adds zest to family room barbecue parties.

Porcelain enamel permits you to use your kettle as much in the winter as in the summer.

Cooks in any weather . . . rain can't spoil your barbecue party if you have a Weber.

Only a Weber Covered Bar-B-Q Kettle can bring out all the full-bodied flavor of meats, fowl and fish.

Only covered cooking a la Weber eliminates the constant turning of your food . . . eliminates the need for spits or special flip grills.

The secret is in the magic cover. In a Weber, flameless reflected heat cooks from all sides. Heat is controlled through dampers in both the cover and the bottom bowl. Only in a Weber are mouth-watering natural cooking juices sealed into your cooking . . . no flare-ups of flame to scorch or burn your food.

Cooking time in a Weber is much less than with ordinary Bar-B-Q methods . . . lets you satisfy hungry appetites faster. And . . . because the magic cover eliminates the fuss and bother of constant attention to cooking, you have more time to spend with your guests or family . . . and the cover is deep enough to accommodate a large roast or turkey without requiring a spit.

Bar-B-Qing in a Weber knows no season. Indoors or out, your WEBER COVERED BAR-B-Q KETTLE will be your constant cooking companion. Only in a Weber can you cook indoors without fear of smoke. Its rustproof, porcelain enamel finish is smart looking in any setting . . . it shrugs off rain, sun or snow with a smile . . . cleans quickly and easily after each use.

WEBER CAN DO JUSTICE THIS GOURMET RECIPE

ROAST BEEF a la FELIPE

Get a good (well veined with fat) standing rib roast large enough for the number of guests expected. Figure at least a pound per person. Prepare an aluminum foil pan slightly larger than the roast and place on top grill. Arrange charcoal on bottom along sides of your Weber kettle, but not directly under the roast. Place rib roast with rib side down on foil pan and replace cover. Leave one damper open on the bottom and the top damper open. After 15 minutes baste with the following mixture every 1/2 hour until roast is done. Use an internal meat thermometer to cook to taste.

1/2 cup blackberry brandy	1/4 teaspoon marjoram
1/2 cup slivered almonds	Juice from one
1/2 cup butter	garlic clove
1/2 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce	1/4 teaspoon cracked pepper
	1 tablespoon salt

All ingredients simmer for 15 minutes before basting.

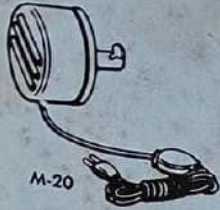

SMOKEY JOE

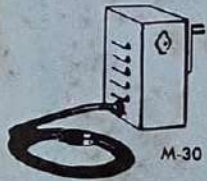

Black porcelain finish.
14 1/2" diameter.
13" grill height.
Feeds up to 6 people.
Sturdy cardboard carrying case.
Packed 6 to master carton
6.7 cu. ft. weighing approx. 60 lbs.
