WEBER® Q™ GRILLS 2008

SO MANY GRILLS, SO LITTLE TIME

If you're looking for a power-packed grill that won't take up much space, or want an über-portable grill with plenty of capacity, you'll find what you need in the line-up of super-charged Weber® Q™ gas grills. Available in three sizes with options like a center-mounted thermometer and swing-out side tables, Weber® Q™ grills are built to perform. Each grill features a cooking system that packs some serious power and gives you even cooking across the heavy, porcelain-enamel, cast-iron cooking grate. So, whether you go small or you go big, the grilling is going to be good.

Standard high-quality features that are included in each of Weber® Q™ grills:

- Stainless steel burner(s)
- Infinite control burner valve
- Removable catch pan
- Porcelain-enamelled, cast-iron cooking grate(s)
- Cast-aluminum lid and body
- Glass-reinforced nylon frame
- Two folding work tables
(not included on the Weber® Q™ 100 & Weber® Char Q™)
- Weber® Q™ recipe booklet
(not included on the Weber® Char Q™)
- Limited warranty

WEBER® Q™ GRILL FEATURES

PORCELAIN-ENAMELED, CAST-IRON COOKING GRATE

Porcelain-enamelled, cast-iron cooking grate features an integrated Flavorizer® bar-type system that protects the burner, disperses heat across the entire cooking surface, and helps reduce flare-ups.

INFINITE CONTROL BURNER VALVE

Top-ported stainless steel burners with infinite control valves let you dial the heat up or down with precision.

PORTABLE

Portable models are powered by 14.1-ounce or 16.1-ounce propane cylinders. Or, if you prefer, add the optional LP tank adapter hose and regulator for use with a traditional 20-pound liquid propane tank.

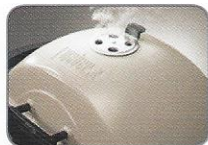

Finally, a Weber® Q™ grill for the charcoal grill fanatic. New for 2008, the Weber® Char Q™ grill brings all the portability and panache of its predecessors, but with the unmistakable flavor of charcoal.

GAS GRILLS 2008

SPIRIT®, GENESIS® AND SUMMIT® GAS GRILLS

Notice how sturdy the hood feels as it opened smoothly on its hinges?
See how the burners roar to life on the very first try?
Delighted by how simple it is to achieve a mouthwatering meal, every time?

It's no accident. We spend countless hours perfecting the cooking systems on our gas grills, assuring easy assembly, an evenly heated cooking surface, and the precision controls to tone things down to the perfect heat level for direct or indirect cooking.

Standard high-quality features that are included in each of our Spirit®, Genesis®, and Summit® gas grills:

- Stainless steel burners
- Porcelain-enameled or stainless steel lids with painted end-caps
- Painted steel or stainless steel doors
- Crossover® ignition system (Spirit® and Genesis® gas grills)
- Snap-Jet™ ignition system (Summit® gas grills)
- Enclosed cart with painted side and rear panels
- Tool hooks
- Precision fuel gauge (LP models only)—tank not included
- Limited warranty
- Weber® cookbook
- Natural gas grills come with a 10-foot flexible hose

THE WEBER COOKING SYSTEM

FLAVORIZER® BARS

Say good-bye to meat-charring flare-ups and the lava rocks and ceramic briquets that collect the grease that causes them. When cooking juices hit our unique, angled Flavorizer bars, they simply smoke and sizzle, adding flavor to your meal.

COOKING GRATES

Durable stainless steel, porcelain-enameled cast-iron, or porcelain-enameled coated steel provides years of exceptional grilling performance and easy maintenance.

BURNER SYSTEM

Stainless steel burners run the full length of the cookbox for even heating. Weber's burner system includes infinitely variable valves that provide maximum control for both direct and indirect cooking.

Naming Convention:

- If you see an E before the number of the grill model (Spirit® E-310™), this means that the shroud of the grill is porcelain-enameled steel with corresponding painted steel doors.
- If you see an S before the number of the grill model (Summit® S-470™), this means that the shroud and doors of the grill are made of stainless steel.

We set out to make the finest entry-level, full-size grill on the market and that's just what we did. The 26,000 BTU-per-hour input found on the dual-burner Spirit® E-210™ grill gives it plenty of oomph, while its warming rack and ample storage space makes it a joy to use. The Spirit® E-310™ grill ups the ante with more grilling space and 36,000 BTUs across three stainless steel burners. Weber quality and affordability make these grills shine.

CHARCOAL GRILLS 2008

A GRILLER'S DEFINITION OF "QUALITY"

At Weber® we believe that grilling should be as fun as it is flavorful. Call us perfectionists, but we've dedicated ourselves to that standard since 1952 when we made our first charcoal kettle. That's because we know that when you've got friends and family hovering around the grill, hungry for that unmistakable charcoal flavor, the last thing you want to contend with is shoddy construction or burnt food. So we do our homework, designing products that won't let you down and investing in state-of-the-art, environmentally sound manufacturing processes. The result? A line of grills that don't require an engineering degree to assemble, last for many long years of dependable service and—most importantly—deliver exceptional grilled results every time.

Standard high-quality features that are included in each of our charcoal grills:

- Porcelain-enameled bowl and lid
- Heavy-duty plated steel cooking grate
- No-rust aluminum vent(s)
- Glass-reinforced nylon handle(s)
- Weber® cookbook
- Limited warranty

SPECIAL FEATURES

NO-RUST ALUMINUM VENT AND ASH CATCHER

Three vents on the bowl and one on the lid provide the proper air flow for perfect grilling. And the removable ash catcher makes ash disposal easy.

EXCLUSIVE ONE-TOUCH™ CLEANING SYSTEM

Weber's patented solution to ash removal hassles. Simply move one lever to open and close all three bottom vents and sweep out ashes.

GLASS-REINFORCED NYLON HANDLES

Maintenance-free handles withstand the elements for the life of the grill.

HEAVY-GAUGE STEEL CHARCOAL AND COOKING GRATES

Heavy-gauge plated steel cooking grates are made to last through years of cookouts. Some models come with a hinged grate so adding charcoal is easy while grilling by the indirect method.

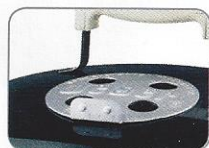

Now you can bring the party and your appetite almost anywhere. The Smokey Joe® grill is as portable as it is capable, with a durable steel cooking grate, no-rust aluminum vent, and plenty of room for grilling. The Smokey Joe® Gold grill adds a lid lock for easy carrying.
